Where hope meets possibility
Far too many people and families in our communities struggle with serious challenges — from trauma and mental illness to addiction, domestic violence, and child abuse. Family Connections is here to make sure no one has to face these challenges alone.

Across Northern New Jersey, we deliver a wide range of services, including counseling, prevention and training, family bonding, family reunification, social-emotional skills-building — and more.

In the past decade, the number of people participating in our services has quadrupled to more than 4,000/year. We rigorously track data across our programs, measuring both the soft and hard impact of our work. So we know that what we do really works.

Our highly-trained staff brings their many skills and big hearts to work every day — not only in our offices, but on-site in schools and directly in the home. We work with people as they define their own needs, goals, and plans for better lives, so that children, teens, mothers, fathers, veterans, seniors, and others can heal and succeed in school, work, and life.

Since 1879, Family Connections has proven that communities thrive when everyone is invested in each other’s wellbeing. We are where hope meets possibility.
At Family Connections, we succeed because we approach our work with strong values, big hearts, and the latest science. No one of these is enough without the other two. We pride ourselves on our entire staff’s dedication to all three. Whether we’re working with a toddler, teen, parent, veteran, or older adult – and whether we’re delivering mental health care or supportive housing, linkage to concrete services or skills-building education – our success depends on leveraging our core values, our deep empathy, and our application of the best science-based practices.

As with our Mission, we strive every day to live our Core Values by being:
